Aptuit LLC

Corporate Description

Aptuit LLC provides the most complete set of integrated early to mid-phase development services in the pharmaceutical industry. Drug Design & Discovery, Preclinical Biosciences, API Development and Manufacture, Solid State Chemistry, Drug Product Formulation Development & Manufacture, Sterile Fill Finish, Clinical Sciences, Consulting, and Aptuit INDiGO® (a program that accelerates drug development) are offered as stand alone or integrated services.

Facilities

Fully integrated drug discovery & development services are available from a single site at The Aptuit Center for Drug Discovery & Development in Verona, Italy. Aptuit offers specialized services from other facilities: SSCI, a division of Aptuit, located in West Lafayette, Indiana is recognized around the world for its solid state chemistry leadership; Aptuit's Glasgow, Scotland site, known for its sterile fill finish and formulation development for a vast range of dosage forms; Harrisonville, Missouri, and Oxford, England, along with a strategic partner in India, with strong competencies in Advanced Pharmaceutical Ingredient (API) development and manufacture including process R&D, analytical and chemical development, preclinical and clinical supply, high potency APIs and cytotoxics, pilot manufacturing, and commercial scale manufacturing. The company is headquartered in Greenwich, Connecticut.

Integrated Knowledge is what distinguishes Aptuit in the pharmaceutical industry. The term stands for the essence of what clients—whether they represent large, multinational companies or emerging biotechs—can anticipate as a unique, reliable and consistent advantage when they select Aptuit as their partner. It represents layer upon layer of the insights and understanding of a collaborative group of multidisciplinary scientific experts and their support teams who routinely have access to the most advanced technologies. Integrated Knowledge is the driving force in taking the client's molecule through to finished drug product with maximum efficiency.

Throughout the Aptuit global enterprise, our scientists apply uncommon expertise to deliver exceptional results. These consummate professionals are among the almost 800 Aptuit people at global locations that bring their Heads for Science and Hearts for Service to create a streamlined drug discovery and development process for biotechnology and pharmaceutical innovators.

Uncommon Expertise. Exceptional Results.
